It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

LIBRARY NOTE.

In order that each department report of the State of Connecticut for a series of years may be quickly located in the bound volumes of Public Documents, the Comptroller has also given each report a Binding Number by which its position in the bound volumes is permanently established, thus enabling each report to be found in the same position and volume from year to year.

That these several reports may be placed in the libraries of our several exchanges as soon as convenient after publication, he has provided that the State Librarian shall be supplied with two hundred sets bound in volumes of convenient size, each volume to be bound and labeled in harmony with the regular set and sent out as soon as possible after the printing of the reports belonging therein. This arrangement began with the reports for 1902.

OF THE
ADJUTANT GENERAL.

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,

HARTFORD, September 30, 1916.

To His Excellency, The Governor.

SIR:—The following report covering the operations of the military establishment during the past two years is submitted in compliance with the provisions of section 3028, chapter 183, of the Militia Law.

The National Guard of this State consists of an adjutant general's department; an inspector general's department; a judge advocate general's department; a quartermaster corps; a medical department, consisting of 1 field hospital company, 1 ambulance company and 4 sanitary detachments; an ordnance department; 1 field company signal troops; 2 troops of cavalry; 1 regiment of field artillery, consisting of headquarters, headquarters company, supply company and 6 batteries, 5 of which have been organized since the last report, 1 in Stamford and 4 at Yale University, New Haven, and 1 sanitary detachment; 1 coast artillery corps, consisting of headquarters and 13 companies and 1 sanitary detachment; 2 regiments of infantry, consisting each of headquarters, headquarters company, machine gun company and supply company, 12 lettered companies and 1 sanitary detachment; 1 separate company infantry (colored); 1 battalion of naval militia, consisting of headquarters, 4 deck divisions and 1 engineer division.

According to the latest returns the strength of the land forces of the National Guard is at this date 212 officers and 4,148 men; the naval militia has 23 officers and 329 men; total land forces and naval militia, 235 officers, 4,477 enlisted men. The records show that there were gains, 113 officers and 4,100 enlisted men; losses, 86 officers and 2,631 enlisted men during the last two years. The increase in gains over those of previous years is due in part to the organizing of five new batteries of field artillery, one in Stamford and four at Yale University, New Haven, upon the approval of the Board of Organization, and the call of the President, for the largest part of the National Guard of this State into the Federal service, on June 18th of this year.

The requirements of the Federal law for an increase in the strength of the National Guard of this State in order to profit by allotment of United States funds suggest a change in the militia law, especially sections 3004 and 3078, so far as these sections restrict the number of men that may be enlisted. State legislation should provide for the maintenance of the military forces at any standard prescribed by the Federal Government; to this end sections 2989 and 2990 of the militia law should be so amended as to provide for application of a draft within the respective cities, towns and adjoining towns, wherein organizations are located for the maintenance of the required strength of such organizations, in the event of voluntary enlistments failing to accomplish that object. Requirements of the War Department, under Federal law, for specific number of men in the National Guard, should be considered in the same manner as a requisition by the President.

Companies, troops, batteries and divisions of the National Guard have been organized in cities and towns of this

State and in most cases armories have been built at the urgent solicitation of the citizens, with the understanding that the organizations would be kept up to the required standard, if this standard cannot be kept up through voluntary enlistments, drafts should be resorted to.

Tables of Organizations. Organized Militia, made the organizing of six additional units necessary since last report; namely, two Headquarters Companies, two Machine Gun Companies and two Supply Companies, one of each of the foregoing attached to each of the first and second Regiments of Infantry.

The several organizations of the National Guard of this State conform practically to that prescribed by the War and Navy Departments, excepting in numbers; several of the companies have not the required strength and unless these organizations are recruited up to the required strength, by voluntary enlistment, or draft, Federal recognition as National Guard will be withdrawn and allotment of United States funds for such incomplete organizations will be cut off.

The general efficiency of the National Guard is most satisfactory, the systematic plan prescribed for armory drills and carried out the last two drill seasons has proven very successful. For the purpose of improving the efficiency of the infantry in rifle practice, the two regiments and the first separate company of this arm were ordered to the State rifle range, East Haven, for a Rifle Camp of Instruction of six weeks, commencing July 12, 1915, this by battalions, each battalion remaining in camp one week, in charge of the Inspector-Instructor, U. S. Army; the result of this camp was very beneficial and proved the need of such camps. In the Coast Artillery each company had one day instruction in rifle practice during the month of May in addition to ten days' duty at Fort H. G. Wright, New York, in joint coast defense exercises. Camps of Instruction for officers were held as follows: For Coast Artillery, at Fort H. G. Wright, N. Y., May 5-9, 1915, inclusive; for Infantry, at East Haven, Conn., June 7-11, 1915, inclusive; for Field Artillery, at Tobyhanna, Pa., June 1-15, 1915, inclusive; for Cavalry, at Fort Ethan Allen, Vt., June 20-27, 1915, inclusive. Troops A and B, Cavalry attended a joint camp of instruction at Quonsett Point, R. I., July 25-August 1, 1915, inclusive, and one day rifle and pistol practice during the month of August. The First Company Signal Troops made a practice march through the northwestern part of the State, July 7-13, 1915, inclusive. The Field Hospital and Ambulance Companies took part in joint camp of instruction at Tobyhanna, Pa., July 26-August 4, 1915, inclusive. The Naval Militia participated in a cruise on board the U. S. S. Kentucky, August 17-29, 1915, inclusive. The work of all organizations, land and naval, was most satisfactory.

During the remaining summer months of 1915, the time was occupied in instruction of rifle practice of the individual members who had not been able to attend the rifle camp of instruction and those who were enlisted since; General Orders No. 2, A. G. O., 1916, copy of which has been forwarded to the Governor, gives the result of the small arms firing during the season of 1915.

Regular weekly drills for all organizations for the drill season 1915-1916 were ordered in General Orders, No. 31, A. G. O., September 22, 1915; these were conducted under the supervision of the several Inspector-Instructors, U. S. Army and the result of the winter's work was very satisfactory so far as instruction is concerned, but some of the companies were unable to keep their membership up to the minimum strength required and of the actual strength there were in many organizations a large number of absentees from drills, owing to the pressure of work in the factories, where in many of them the men were obliged to work nights; this night work also caused many absentees from the annual Federal inspections, 1915 and 1916. It is hoped that the monstrous preparedness parades, instigated and attended by all the business men during this summer, will have made them patriotic enough to permit their employees, who are members of the National Guard, to attend drills and encampments in the future without endangering their jobs and positions. If employers would encourage their employees to join the National Guard instead of discouraging them as has been the case too often, there would be less trouble in keeping the ranks filled.

Orders had been issued by this office and preparations were about completed for camps and maneuvers for all the organizations of this State, when on June 18, 1916, the proclamation of the President called for the mobilization of the troops, for duty at the Mexican border; this order was received by the Governor on June 19th and orders were issued the same day from this office for the mobilization of the following organizations on June 20th:

1st Conn. Infantry.

2d Conn. Infantry.

Battalion Headquarters and Batteries A, B, C, D, E and F, Conn. Field Artillery.

1st Conn. Field Company Signal Troops.

1st Conn. Ambulance Company.

1st Conn. Field Hospital Company.

The organizations responded promptly and the work of recruiting to the maximum strength was taken up at once.

The new Defense Act passed by Congress June 3, 1916, only a few days before the President's proclamation, with the many changes in the military laws, and the National Guard not having been furnished with copies of the Act at the time of the call, caused endless confusion with the organizations as well as with the United States mustering officers, however, the State of Connecticut has all reasons to be proud of its National Guard in the prompt response and quick work performed by officers and men under the most unfavorable conditions; surgeons working day and night at physical examinations, quartermasters drawing and issuing equipments which were very slow in arriving, shortage of blank forms, of which some were never received until after the troops had left the mobilization camp, all of which added greatly to the discomfort of all.

8 THE ADJUTANT GENERAL'S REPORT.

Following is the table showing the arrival of the troops at Niantic and their leaving for Nogales, Arizona:

Total number of officers and men				128-2951

The six batteries of Field Artillery were sent to Tobyhanna, Pa., as soon as they were mustered into the Federal service, with a total of 35 officers and 901 enlisted men.

On the 7th of this month (September) the Headquarters and Batteries A, B, C and D (Yale Batteries) were ordered to return to Niantic, Conn., for muster out of the Federal service, this per Special Orders No. 210, Headquarters Eastern Department. All of these batteries have since been mustered out and it is contemplated to disband them in the near future. Batteries E and F, Field Artillery, of Branford and Stamford respectively, were ordered to El Paso, Texas, where they are at the present date with a membership as follows:

Battery E—5 officers, 116 enlisted men.

Battery F—5 officers, 120 enlisted men.

THE ADJUTANT GENERAL'S REPORT. 9

Each of the two infantry regiments were accompanied by sanitary detachments of 4 medical officers and 24 enlisted men.

All of the Connecticut troops are at the Mexican border at this date, September 30, excepting the 13 companies Conn. Coast Artillery, the 1st Separate Co. Conn. Infantry and the Conn. Naval Militia.

The Conn. Coast Artillery participated in joint coast defense exercises at Fort H. G. Wright, N. Y., June 22, to July 1, inclusive, 1916; the 1st Separate Company Conn. Infantry had only one day field training in rifle practice.

The Naval Militia took part in two cruises during this summer, being divided as follows: On the U. S. S. Amphitrite July 15 to 29, 8 officers and 141 enlisted men; on the U. S. S. Virginia, same dates, 13 officers and 173 enlisted men, total 21 officers, 314 men.

Present indications are that most, if not all, of the Connecticut troops now at the Mexican border, will be returned to their home stations at an early date.

Owing to the radical changes in the military laws of the United States, enacted by Congress and approved by the President, June 3, 1916, it appears essential to change the Militia Law of the State of Connecticut in many respects at the coming session of the Legislature, and it is recommended that a board of officers be appointed to make such necessary recommendations to the Legislature as will make the Militia Law comprehensive and in compliance with the Military Laws of the United States.

Acting under the advice and consent of The Adjutant General, the Command went in to Camp at the State Rifle Range at Torrington, Conn. The purpose of the Encampment being to take up Rifle Practice, Guard Duty and Extended Order. The rainy condition of the weather prohibited the carrying out, in full, the work as laid out.

Temporary shelters were erected and rifle practice was continuous each day during the entire encampment. Major Earl D. Church, Ordnance Department, volunteered his services as instructor and according to his report the work accomplished was very satisfactory.

Personally, I feel that the encampment was an entire success: the willing and enthusiastic obedience to orders under new and adverse circumstances was gratifying and I believe the encampment was a step in the direction of placing the Command upon as thorough a military basis as possible under its Charter.

In closing, I desire to express the appreciation of the entire Command of the consideration given by The Adjutant General, which enabled it to take up this feature of military duty and to state that it is the unanimous recommendation of its Officers that provision be made for yearly encampment.

The Company paraded as escort to the City Battalions, 2d Infantry, C. N. G., as the latter moved from their Armory for the railroad yards to entrain for Niantic in accordance with mobilization orders resulting from conditions at the Mexican border.

DRILLS.

With excellent attendance and creditable work, drills were regularly held during the regulation period, and owing to the removal from the State during the summer of a large portion of the organized militia my Command without interruption continued weekly drills throughout the summer. Although this was an entirely new departure, the men entered upon the summer work with enthusiasm and full ranks. The plan of giving medals to Non-Commissioned Officers and Privates achieving 100 per cent attendance at drills and parades was continued during the drill season covered in this report.

IN GENERAL.

My Command is recruited up to the maximum limit and enjoys a waiting list for future enlistments. There is a loyal interest present, which causes our work to be carried on with enthusiasm, and always with the intent of being a credit and benefit to the State. During December, 1914, numerous important changes were made in the By-Laws of the Company and approved at Headquarters. The changes place the Company in a better condition financially and in other ways are working for the improvement of our outfit, which is our constant aim.

Our prolonged season of drilling has greatly elevated the efficiency of the Command, which is adequately qualified, I believe, to perform all the duties required of it. The discipline is good, and the interest and enthusiasm of the members is at all times keen.

As Major Commandant of the Company, I am at all times aiming to improve our work and in every way strive to raise the standard of the organization; and, in the endeavor, I am at all times remindful of the duties resting upon me, which I hope to perform in an acceptable manner.

Sir, I have the honor to be your obedient servant,

JOHN B. KENNEDY,
Major Commanding,
Second Company Governor's Foot Guard.

APPENDIX B

LONG SERVICE MEDALS.

OFFICE OF THE BUREAU OF VITAL STATISTICS,

CAPITOL, HARTFORD, Dec. 1, 1916.

To His Excellency, MARCUS H. HOLCOMB, Governor of the State of Connecticut:

SIR:—In compliance with the laws of the State, I have the honor to present to you the sixty-eighth report, relating to the births, marriages, divorces and deaths that were registered in Connecticut in the year, 1915, as compiled by the former Secretary.

Very respectfully,

JOHN T. BLACK, M. D.

Secretary of the State Board of Health, and Superintendent of the Registration of Vital Statistics.

REGISTRATION REPORT, 1915.

The present registration report is the sixty-eighth annual compilation of births, marriages and deaths registered in Connecticut during the calendar year 1915. The first report was for the year 1848 and, with the exception of 1852, reports have appeared each year since. Prior to the organization of the State Board of Health, and the making of this Board the State Bureau of Vital Statistics, they were published first from the office of the Secretary of State, and later by the State Librarian.

For non-census years statistical tables are based upon an estimated population and the chief methods employed by statistical experts in estimating population are those known as the geometrical and arithmetical methods. The geometrical method assumes a constant rate of increase between census years, or an increase in proportion to the population, while the arithmetical method assumes a constant amount of increase between census years. It is the latter method that is used in making the rates found in this report. The total increase of population from one census to the next is divided by the number of years, or part of year, between censuses and the resulting average annual increase is added from year to year to give the estimated population.

BIRTHS.

The registered births during the year numbered 32,725 which is 815 in excess of those reported the previous year and represents a birth rate of 26.7 per 1,000 population. The registration of births, presents greater difficulties than that of either deaths or marriages, and no city or state claims complete birth registration. The census of 1910 showed that of the states, only the six New England states, Pennsylvania and Michigan had an approximately complete birth registration. The essential burial permit and marriage license tends to completeness of death and marriage records, but in the case of births, there is no such ready check on the enforcement of the law. Physicians and midwives are required to report all births coming under their care, but unfortunately there are instances where no professional attendant is employed and a certificate of birth is not returned. Birth registration is of the utmost importance in all questions relating to heredity, property rights and identity. No child labor law is of value unless it rests on a system of birth registration by which the child and the parent can be required to produce positive proof of the age of the child. Laws cannot be enforced where the question of age depends on the statement of interested parties rather than on official records.

MARRIAGES.

There were 11,863 marriages during the year 1915. This was 484 more than in the previous year.

DEATHS.

The deaths in the state numbered 18,247 equivalent to a death rate of 14.8 per thousand of population. This is 36 deaths more than last year when the death rate was 15.1 per thousand population. The death-rates given in this report are what is known as crude death rates and are based upon the comparison of total deaths with the aggregate population. Our death rate of 14.8 per thousand has been corrected by the U. S. Census Bureau for age and sex distribution to 14.1 per thousand. This means that death rates vary with the character of the population and each element has its relation to the rate of mortality and, therefore, for comparison with other states or countries, the make-up of the population must be considered. The death rate per thousand males is practically always higher than the death rate per thousand females. Hence a state having a relatively larger female population than another will normally show a lower death rate and a community where the very young or old predominate will show a higher rate than a community made up largely of young adults. Rates will also vary with the color and nationality of the inhabitants, as death rates are unfavorably affected by a large foreign-born population, living in crowded tenements and under unsanitary conditions.

The Census Bureau takes the population of England and Wales as the standard for comparison and the corrected death rates are the rates that would have resulted at the various age groups if the sex and age of the population in the state had been identical with that of the population of England and Wales at the last census.

The rates given in this report as those in all the preceding registration reports are based on the inclusion of all deaths, both resident and non-resident occurring in each town. Deaths in the asylums for the insane and in other state institutions are enumerated with those of the town where they are located and no plan has yet been devised for changing non-residents back to the towns from which they came. Tuberculosis death rates in our cities have decreased since the establishment of our State sanatoria, for the reason that many of these cases go to the State institutions. The growing popularity of our city hospitals have also affected local statistics. Many victims of typhoid fever who contract the disease in the country are carried to our city hospitals and some die there. This requires their deaths to be recorded in the city where they die. Obviously there is an injustice which is especially apparent in some instances.

A considerable part of the work of the office consists of the tabulation of the causes of death, and it is necessary for the sake of uniformity and comparability of the resulting statistics that it be done according to certain recognized standards. The method employed is that known as the International Classification of the causes of death, sometimes known as the Bertillon System. The use of a classification or statistical list is a condensation of the multitudinous terms employed by physicians upon certificates of death to a uniform list of fairly precise titles. This classification is now used by all registration states and many foreign countries. It is subject to revision periodically. The last revision was in Paris in 1909.

The registration officials of the various towns very generally take an interest in the work and strive to make the statistics as perfect as possible. To them we would express our appreciation, as well as to the physicians for their uniform courtesy in answering the many inquiries sent them for explanation or additional information regarding the causes of death.

TOWNS IN WHICH THE DEATHS EXCEEDED THE BIRTHS.

The registration of the Vital Statistics of the State is always conducted townwise. Although cities and boroughs are often included within town limits, their population for death-rates, birth-rates, etc., are counted as part of the population in which they are respectively located.

In 26 towns the deaths exceeded the births. The total excess of deaths over births in these towns, or the natural loss of population was 133. The loss in this way was 13 less than in the previous year.

The following table gives a summary of the Vital Statistics of the State from 1848, the date of the first Registration Report, up to the present time. Previous to the year, 1900 still births are enumerated with the living births—but in that year and following only the living births are counted in the total of births. In the year 1852 no Report of Vital Statistics was published.

REPORT OF THE DEPARTMENT OF FACTORY INSPECTION

Office of the Department of Factory Inspection,
Hartford, Conn., November 30, 1916.

To His Excellency, Marcus H. Holcomb, Governor.

Sir:—I respectfully submit herewith the report of the work of the Department of Factory Inspection for the two years ending September 30, 1916. This department was under the supervision of the Hon. John J. McPartland from September 30, 1914, to July 1, 1915, when my appointment took effect.

The statistics given herewith will show the activities of the department for the past two years. A departure is made from the reports of my predecessors in not printing each separate order given by the department. In place of this a resumé of the several kinds of orders is given.

No general statistics are given as to the workings of the Compensation Law, for the reason that the session of 1915 directed the compilation of all statistics relating to the workings of that law and placed the burden of compiling those statistics upon the Compensation Commissioners. Such statistics will naturally be furnished by that board. There are, however, a few employers who have not accepted the Compensation Act and statistics as to those employers are given herewith.

As in former years the manufacturers have shown great willingness in aiding this department in its work. In three cases it was necessary to ask for a prosecution for failure to comply with the law relating to the hours of employment, and in two cases conviction was secured. In the other case the concern removed from the state to avoid a conviction. The attitude of the manufacturers in general, however, has been to co-operate with the department and some have even gone farther than required by the department. Several of the larger plants maintain their own corps of inspectors, who do nothing but look after the safeguarding of the machinery and the inspection of their elevators. The safety committee in these plants is composed of representatives from both the manufacturer and the body of employees, which meets regularly to consider questions affecting the safety of the workmen in the plant. This system of co-operation, combined with the installing of hospital service, dining rooms and the like, cannot help but promote a better feeling between the employer and his employees.

My observation of the working of the laws relating to this department leads me to believe that they should be amended in several instances. These recommendations are made in a subsequent part of this report.

There is printed herewith a list of all the manufacturers, arranged by counties and towns. Such a list as this is in constant demand by those within and without the state.

WILLIAM S. HYDE,

Commissioner of Labor and Factory Inspection.

RECOMMENDATIONS

ELEVATORS.

The examination of all elevators, whether in manufacturing, mercantile establishments or apartment houses, is placed upon this department. Details are given in the statute as to the inspection of the elevators. There is, however, in the act nothing which requires notice to be given to this department before the elevator is put in operation. This being the case, whether an elevator is inspected or not depends entirely upon whether an inspector finds out that a certain elevator is being operated. For this reason, possibly some elevators in the state may be operated for some time before they have been inspected. It would seem that an act should be passed which would require notice to be given to this department before the elevator is put in operation, so that it may be properly inspected before it is used. The act should provide a penalty for operating an elevator prior to its being inspected.

INDUSTRIAL SANITATION.

The personnel of our mill employes is constantly changing. Industrial conditions during the past few years have caused an influx of nationalities into this state not heretofore represented. In the weaving industries many manufacturers have already discarded the suction threading shuttle. It is still being used in some of our manufacturing plants. An irritation is caused by small particles of fibre and dust which are taken into the throat passages by this method of inhalation, which produces catarrh of the larynx. The use of the suction threading shuttle should be forbidden by specific legislation on the ground of public health and safety. The state has already said that individual drinking cups shall be furnished in all public places. It certainly is inconsistent with legislation of that kind to permit the use of suction shuttles indiscriminately where the lips of the different employes in the plant must come in contact with the shuttles. Massachusetts has already passed such a law.

The passage of the following or a similar law would seem to be a necessity:

"It shall be unlawful for any proprietor of a factory or any officer or agent or other person to require or permit the use of suction shuttles, or any form of shuttle in the use of which any part of the shuttle or any thread is put into the mouth or touched by the lips of the operator. It shall be the duty of the Commissioner of Labor and Factory Inspection to enforce the provisions of this act. Violations shall be punished by a fine of not less than ten or more than fifty dollars for each offense."

BAKESHOPS.

The bakeshop law is inadequate in many respects. At present there is a requirement that notice shall be given to this department before a bakeshop is opened. After an inspection is made a certificate is issued which has no definite period to run. These certificates are issued without cost to the owner of the bakeshop and many times seem to mean nothing to him. All this tends to make the owner careless and not as zealous to obey the law as if conditions were different. I believe that a nominal charge should be made for bakeshop certificates. A fee of one dollar would probably be large enough, although it would not cover the cost of the inspection in many cases. It would, however, have a tendency to make the owner of the certificate more careful about keeping it in a proper condition.

The certificate should be valid for one year from the date of its issuance. This would make an inspection at least once a year imperative. Definite authority should be given to revoke a certificate once issued for failure to comply with the law.

STANDARD OF PAYMENT.

In the coarse cotton mills during the past two years a number of strikes have occurred. In the weaving departments the question was over the prices paid for weaving. These differences have resulted in loss of wages to employees and loss of production to employers. Wages are paid per cut or fractional part thereof—in quarter, half and three-quarter cuts. No payment is made for less than one-quarter of a cut. Inasmuch as there is no standard length, or number of yards in a cut, it is not a fair basis for determining wages. A law which would regulate the standard length of a cut for this purpose only would be a simple but effective remedy.

NOTICES.

Before a prosecution can now be brought for failure to obey an order of this department, notice must be served upon the person responsible, either by an officer or an indifferent person, by leaving a copy of the order with him and by leaving a copy at the office of the town clerk in the town where the person responsible has his place of business.

A statute has been passed relating to another department making a signed receipt for a registered copy of such an order admissible in evidence to prove the issuance of the order. It would seem that this rule should govern orders sent out by this department and the signed receipt of a notice sent by registered mail should be sufficient proof that the order was given. I can see no good reason for leaving a copy with the town clerk.

TUBERCULOSIS POSTERS.

The distribution of the posters of the Tuberculosis Commission in factories is placed upon this department. This department is in no better position to distribute those posters to factories than is the Tuberculosis Commission. I would recommend that this duty be transferred from this department to the Tuberculosis Commission.

DOORS IN FACTORIES AND MERCANTILE ESTABLISHMENTS.

Doors of public building are required to open outward on the ground of public safety. It would seem that the same law should be made applicable to manufacturing, mechanical and mercantile establishments, as the fire hazard is just as great in these establishments as it is in public buildings.

PROHIBITED TRADES.

War conditions have caused the employment of women and children in occupations where they have not been hitherto employed, and which are extremely hazardous and injurious to their health. The statute relating to the employment of children in certain prohibited trades should be enlarged to take into consideration these new employments.

SCHOOL CERTIFICATES.

The inspectors from this department find many children with school certificates employed at prohibited occupations. When brought to task, the person in charge of that department invariably relies upon the excuse that he did not know that such employment was forbidden and supposed that so long as the child had a certificate it could be employed at anything. Whether this excuse is made in good faith or not, it could be obviated by having printed on the back of all certificates a statement that the bearer could not be employed at those occupations prohibited by statute, specifically enumerating them. A law should be passed requiring such occupations to be printed upon the back of all certificates.

NIGHT WORK FOR WOMEN AND CHILDREN.

During the past two years women and children have been employed in certain industries on night work. It was popularly supposed that the employment of women and children after ten o'clock at night in manufacturing and mechanical establishments was forbidden under the present law. The law, however, has been construed as limiting their employment to ten o'clock only in mercantile establishments. There seems to be no good reason for this distinction, and the law should be changed so as to put manufacturing and mechanical establishments upon the same basis as mercantile establishments.

TOILETS.

While in some cases the toilet facilities in manufacturing and mechanical establishments are not ideal, yet they are as good as they can be made under the present law. In a number of mercantile establishments there is great difficulty in compelling the owner or proprietor to install separate toilets for men and women where they are employed together. If the separate toilets are not provided, the women naturally refuse to use those used by the men and this necessitates their leaving, in many instances, their places of employment to go elsewhere. A law should be passed giving this department a more definite control over the installation and care of toilets in manufacturing, mechanical and mercantile establishments.

I concur in the recommendation made by my predecessor that the following, or a similar law, should be passed to govern this subject:

"Every person or corporation managing or operating any factory, or owning or controlling the use of any other building where any person is employed, shall provide sufficient, suitable, convenient and separate water-closets or earth-closets for each sex, which shall be properly screened, ventilated and kept clean; and also, if ordered by the Commissioner of Labor and Factory Inspection, a suitable and convenient wash-room and dressing-room for female employees. The water-closets or earth-closets used by females shall have separate approaches."

COMPENSATION REPORTS.

Only those manufacturers not accepting the Compensation Law make direct reports to this office. In 1915 there were fourteen companies so reporting. The total number of accidents reported in that year from the fourteen companies was 62. In 1916, the number of companies was reduced to eight, reporting a total of 67 accidents for the year. Most of these accidents were of a minor character, and but one resulted in death. A summary of the accidents is given herewith:

FIRE PREVENTION.

During the past two years eighty-six new fire escapes have been ordered and they have been constructed in compliance with the order. In each case before the erection of the fire escape, the plan has been submitted to this department, and any suggestions made in the way of modifications have been cheerfully accepted. There is still a little laxity on the part of some of the manufacturers in allowing fire escapes or other means of egress to become obstructed. Forty-five orders were given during the past two years along this line. Usually this obstructing of the fire escape or other means of egress has been due to thoughtlessness rather than to any intent to evade the law.

Many manufacturers, in addition to providing fire escapes and other means of egress, have installed all the most improved methods for fire-fighting purposes, and have well-organized factory fire departments and fire alarm signals.

The number of factories equipped with sprinkler systems has increased and hand chemical extinguishers are in general use. Carbonated sawdust has replaced sand as an extinguisher in many plants, and steam jets have been installed as the most improved methods of fighting fire in japan rooms.

Since the last report an additional precaution has been taken in fuse factories. Smoke houses have been erected near the outside gates of the plants where the men employed leave their smoking outfit (pipes and matches), before they enter the grounds.

One or two instances have come to the notice of the department where gas was used for lighting purposes in a room where there was considerable inflammable material in stock. Common sense should teach the owner of any business that in a place of that kind electricity is much preferable to gas.

BAKESHOPS.

During the past two years all bakeshops have been carefully inspected at least once a year and sometimes oftener. This department has had the active assistance and co-operation of the Health Departments in a number of the cities in following up this work. Conditions have been generally good. In two cases, however, conditions were so bad that the certificate was revoked, and the bakeshop closed. Four other bakeshops, which were underground and were closed for a short time, were not allowed to reopen, in accordance with the statute. Several recommendations as to the bakeshop law are made in another part of the report.

INDUSTRIAL SANITATION.

DRINKING WATER.

There has been a marked increase in the number of firms interested in supplying pure drinking water by having artesian wells bored and by installing filtering, refrigerating and distributing plants, where the water is filtered, chilled to about forty degrees Fahrenheit and distributed through a system of insulated piping and drinking fountains to all departments. The cost of installing such a system makes it prohibitive for small plants. An ice pack on a coil of water pipe within a zinc-lined box provided with drainage and a filter on the faucet gives satisfaction, is easy to construct and is in more general use than any other means of chilling the supply of drinking water. We expect this system will eventually replace the wooden barrels. In addition to other disagreeable features there is no means provided for separating the ice from the water supply. Where bottled spring water is used the employees usually pay the cost of providing the water, the employer furnishing the ice.

TOWELS.

Where the nature of the work requires the employees to keep their hands clean, soap and towels are provided by the employer.

Roller towels are still in use. Individual towels, except where they have been strung on a perpendicular metal rod, non-removable, were not a success. The most approved system in use at the present time is a roll of toweling containing about twenty-five yards with a receptacle provided underneath to receive the section which has been used, leaving only the clean toweling in evidence.

CLEANING AND SWEEPING.

The methods used for sweeping floors and cleaning machinery have been greatly improved. Vacuum cleaners are used with good effect in the textile industries. A few large metal plants have their factory work-rooms cleaned at night. This system commends itself to us and we recommend it wherever firms have their own lighting system. The employees are not disturbed by the sweepers during working hours, and the workrooms are free from all refuse and dust before the factory opens in the morning. In almost every factory there is some effort made to keep the dust settled by a preliminary sprinkling of water or a preparation purchased for that purpose, which is also supposed to act as a disinfectant.

EMERGENCY KITS.

All the factories in the state are now provided with emergency kits. As the following list will show, the number of well equipped emergency rooms has increased and the equipment from a very modest beginning has extended to include X-ray machines, pulmotors, and all the necessary instruments for a surgical operation. Registered physicians are retained in five factories, who give their entire time to the work. Other factories have made arrangements with physicians to give one hour, three days each week, for consultation purposes. The number of nurses (as indicated in this list by a *) has increased to fifty-four (54). Every factory having an emergency room has some person in attendance to render first aid. In many cases the firm has paid for the course of training.

The following table shows the number of evenings women are employed in the majority of the mercantile establishments in the cities and towns visited:

The stores inspected in the remaining towns, not mentioned in the above list, have no regular evenings for employing women.

During the year 1915, there were fifty-nine 5, 10 and 25 cent stores inspected; in 1916, sixty-one.

Seven hundred and six mercantile establishments employ women more than fifty-five hours a week, and most of these are in the smaller towns. The majority of these merchants would prefer to reduce the hours and employ the women fewer evenings a week, but on account of one or two establishments, feel obliged, in order to meet competition, to keep open the same number of evenings, oftentimes a hardship to the employers as well as to the employees, as the merchants say that many evenings they do not sell enough goods to pay for the lights. In one town in the state the largest mercantile establishment employs the women every evening in the week but one, and in order not to exceed the fifty-eight hours per week limit, the women employees are given a longer time at noon, but no afternoon off during the week. The other merchants in that place would be very glad to close every evening but two, or possibly three.

During the year 1915, there were 342 minors employed in the stores, and in 1916, there were 512. The total number of men in 1916 in stores which employ women, was 844.

Some of the stores inspected include places where only boys under sixteen were employed. Section 3 of Chapter 179, Public Acts of 1913, makes it necessary for the inspector to call at nearly every store on the streets, so that besides the inspection of 2,390 stores during the past year, hundreds of other calls were made to ascertain whether or not minors under sixteen were employed.

In a number of instances in the drug stores and ice cream saloons, which keep open every evening, boys were working more than one evening after six p. m., which is contrary to the law, which reads as follows:

"No person under sixteen years of age shall be employed in any mercantile establishment after six o'clock in the afternoon on more than one day in each calendar week."

The excuse given by the employers was that as long as they had their school certificates on file, they thought they could employ them evenings, especially if they did not work during the day. In all instances the violations were remedied by either shortening the hours or discharging the boys.

Two hundred and eighty-four stores had no toilet accommodations for the women employees. Many of these employes were obliged to go to other stores and in a number of instances to hotels, railroad stations and private houses. The grocery stores are not included in this number, where as a rule, there is only one toilet, and, on account of the number of male employes, the women do not use the toilet furnished. According to the statute the merchants are not obliged to put in toilets where less than six are employed and, regardless of the number of employes of each sex, there is no law compelling separate toilets.

The doors in the majority of the smaller and some of the larger mercantile establishments do not open outward. At the suggestion of the inspector that it would be a wise precaution in event of a fire or panic, many of the doors have been changed. We have no statute in regard to the manner in which the doors shall open.

During the last two years many complaints were investigated in regard to seats, lack of ventilation, working after ten p. m., and more than fifty-eight hours per week.

COMPLAINTS AND PROSECUTIONS.

During the past two years the department investigated 250 complaints made as to either working conditions or illegal employment. Quite a large number of these were anonymous. Many times upon investigation it was found that the complaint was without any basis.

When a violation has been found, the policy of the department has been not to prosecute for a first offense. A warning has been given, with notice that if a subsequent offense were brought to the attention of this department, a prosecution would be brought.

During the past two years seventeen prosecutions were brought, eleven of which resulted in conviction. It is, however, a regrettable fact that there is a disposition on the part of some prosecuting officials not to assist the department in the enforcement of the law. The prosecutions were for the following offenses:

Bakeshop:
Non compliance with order.....	1
Bowling Alleys:
Employing boys under 16 years of age after ten p. m.....	12
Manufacturing Establishments:
Employing women more than 58 hours per week.....	2
Employing minors under 16 years of age after ten p. m. and women more than ten hours per day.....	1
Mercantile Establishment:
Employing women after ten p. m.....	1

It will be noted that most of these prosecutions were brought for violations of the law relating to the employment of children in bowling alleys. The proprietors of these establishments apparently do not make any great effort to comply with the law, as the department is constantly receiving complaints that boys are working at prohibited hours.
